Heartstopper is a romance that takes the readers on Nick and Charlie's rollercoaster of a love story as they try to figure out their emotions for each other.

Heartstopper is fun coming of age/romance story. It includes themes of love, life, mental illness and friendship as well as accepting who you are. The artwork is soft and cute to look at. The romance book avoids using oddly flowery language and is short and simple. However, because of the the simplicity of a few plotlines, some secondary characters are underdeveloped and have lower stakes.

This book is best for people into romance and people in the LGBTQIA+ community and teens just trying to figure out their own identities in life. This book is a must read!
