All In by Jennifer Lynn Barnes, this story takes place in the blinding lights of Las Vega. Where a group of FBI consulting teenagers are sent out to pin down a highly unusual serial killer. The serial killer boldly eliminates his victims inside of casinos while staying under the surveillance of security, the killer leaves distant markings of tattoos with numbers having a different way of execution with each victim. As cases piles up, the teenagers must piece together a complex puzzle which includes mathematical advances before one of themselves becomes a target.

All In, is an absolute masterpiece within the young adult crime literature. This is book is the third integration in the collection "Naturals." Barnes does a masterclass work on creating an intricate yet, interesting puzzle, also with interwinding the teenagers mathematical expertise and background of Las Vega gives a true, fresh plot compared to other novels. This is an absolute must read for those who want an mysterious vibe during the night.

I 100% recommend this book, as mentioned it is an absolute masterclass with the integration of complex and advanced puzzles. This is definitely for those who want to feel the adrenaline and zooming effects of the book, inflicting fear and curiosity to the reader. This is a perfect book for those who are interested and/or love character driven thrillers. Note this that you should absolutely read the books previously in the collection "Naturals."
